

Bio for Shawn Paul

(LONG VERSION)

Hello! I'm Shawn Paul, a native of Iowa, now calling the beautiful country of Guatemala my home.

I have been a believer in the Lord for over 30 years. For the past decade, I've been dedicating my life as a full-time missionary, blending my faith and technology skills to create a significant impact in Central America and around the world.

In my early 20's I was led by the Lord to establish my own construction company. In the late 90's, my wife and I sold that company to move to Kentucky. There in Kentucky, I further developed my career in real estate in various ways. Prior to leaving for Central America to the mission field, I was a Realtor and flipped houses.

All throughout those years of owning businesses, I've developed an understanding of how to be led by the Lord and follow the plan of God for my life. It has done me well in my life. I truly believe all believers can be led by the Spirit of God, and God has a special plan for them. I have run into so many people who desire to know more about how they can do the same for their lives.

Today, I use this experience to inspire others and to show them how to have a deeper, intimate relationship with God. Many are missing out on so much of what God wants for them. I want to help them find it. I firmly believe that my journey in life carries valuable lessons for people navigating the crossroads of faith and the plan of God for them.

But there's more to me than just my mission, ministry, and work for the Lord. I'm a blessed family man, deeply committed to a loving marriage that has spanned 37 remarkable years, and a proud father and grandfather. I love to read and study God's Word. I maintain a healthy lifestyle through fitness and being conscientious of my diet. Also, I am a devoted dog dad, and everyone knows it, LOL.

My assignment from God constantly pulls me out of my comfort zone, taking me from across the USA to various foreign countries. These experiences of deepening my relationship with the Lord while navigating different cultures have enriched my perspective and resilience.

My life is proof that when you walk firmly in faith, the extraordinary follows. I truly believe that when you follow God, you can't go wrong. There is nothing a person can't do if God tells them to do it. I'm just a country kid from the cornfields of Iowa. I have had a blast chasing God. He has never failed me, and He never will.

Whether your audience is seeking spiritual guidance, entrepreneurial inspiration, or simply a life lived fully and fearlessly, my story can resonate and help them navigate their own journey. I believe my experiences can inspire, instigate thoughts, and perhaps create a ripple effect of change and positivity.

I look forward to enriching your podcast with stories of faith, resilience, and the joy of life's simple pleasures. Let's delve into discussions that will stir hearts, challenge conventional thinking, and ignite a spark in the spirit of your audience.
